HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 7TH, 1905.

THE Government Treasurer of Hongkong, Mr. A. M. Thomson, thus published and account of the revenue and expenditure covering the period from the beginning of the year to August 31, and, in addition, the usual interesting comparative statement. From the latter we perceive that the estimated revenue from light dues, $75,000 for the year, is being well approached, the actual receipts amounting to $50,445.17, an increase of $1,313.36 over the amount taken in the corresponding period of the previous year. This progress is only to be expected in the case of a port which has climbed so rapidly yet steadily to the exalted position of first in shipping magnitude There was a large increase also ($234,686.28) in the collection of licence fees and internal revenue not otherwise specified, the estimate for the twelve months being $4,820,260, and the revenue for eight being only a million and a half short of that. The item entered as "fees of Court or Office, Payments for specific purposes, and Re-imbursements in Aid" also shows an increase, of $18,118.70. The revenue from the Post Office was estimated at $405,000 for the whole year. It yielded in the first twothirds of the year the sum of $280,935, or $7,495.20 more than in the corresponding portion of 1904. The expenditure from January to August inclusive under this head was $434,626.41, or $237,775.51. Without counting the $8,600 set down elsewhere as special expenditure, a big proportion of this large increase must be regarded as of a special nature; and for the rest, it only remains to be said that the Colony does not yet get full value for its ! money. There is room for vast improvement in the management; the instances of failure might appear potty in detail, but us wonder where the fault lies. Model treated as if they had sold Government property administration of a public institution such and punished severely. as this demands, much closer attention If the place is understaffed, the deficioncy ought to be rem edied at once, irrespective of estimates and rising expenditure. Let us have a trustworthy post-office, ruat calum, for it is the business hub of a commercial city, as important as the banks. The decrease in the rent of Government property, land and houses, has been noted before. These figures put the receipts at 1904. The increment from interest in the ment of the diminished importance of the comeight months was 82,621.45, due; we mand since the war and the return to the presume, to bigger balances rather than to any advance in the money rate. The Water Account shows an increase. The estimate was $70,000 for the year; the revenue for Anderson furnishes an estimate of the populathe eight months was $48,986.52, and the increase $10,764.55. Land sa les dropped Maritime Customs. The total is given at off considerably, $247,780.26 coming no-WHISKY. on considerably, $237,789.26 coming now where within two-thirds of the estimate, being, indeed, less than half. The revenue was $48,880.53 less than in the corresponding period of the previous year. On the expenditure side, the most important decrease ($60,499,04) was set against Recurrent Public Works, by which it would appear that these do not always recur. The Public Works Department took $7,293.48 more than before. The Ecclesiastical donation is $800 more than in 1904. It has been referred to in Council, is hereby appointed legal administratrix of the and is perhaps too unimportant to argue about, although we feel unable to admit that it is a proper charge upon the revenue of such a cosmopolitan and many-creeded community. The Botanical and Afforestation Department spent $5,580.60 less, and if this represents a saving on saw-sharpening and axegrinding, we may well feel

Mr. Charles Stokes Read, who is said to be an active member of the Agapemonite seat, a resident at the "Abode of Love," and secretary to J. H. Smyth-Pigott (who claims to be Christ returned to earth) was removed from the office of director of the V.V. Bread Company at an extraordinary meeting of the company at Salisbury House, because of the damage which, it is said, his connection with Pigott's sect has done to the business of the company.

The Rubi arrived behind time yesterday. The day before her departure the Cablenews said :- "On her return trip to Hongkong tomorrow morning, the Rubi will car you board the Governor-General and Mrs. Wright, and a number of other distinguised passengers. She will sail at 10 o'clock sharp, and an endeavour for a record-breaking trip will be made by Captain Notley." To beat the record, she should have been here at eleven a.m. yesterday, but instead she arrived some hours behind time.

Tientsin is complaining of the inadequate supply of proper wharf accommodation. When owing to the weather, or other causes, several steamers are delayed at the bar or outside, and have all to go up the river on the same tide or close together, there is insufficient room for them alongside the bund, the river bank being so shallow that, unless a wharf is run out some distance beyond the side, no steamer can get near enough to work comfortably. This causes delay and unnecessary expense.

It is next to impossible to get a reliable census of the Chinese Empire. U. S. Consul tion based on a count made by the Imperial 432,000,000. FOREIGN DISTRUST OF CHINESE TROOPS.

The Chefoo Daily News is responsible for the following remerkable stery :- Tientsin, October charges, $4,098.42, Colonial Secretary's 22 For the past ten days the troops under German command have been posted around and in the vicinity of Tientsin. The pretext for this action, as given out to the public, is that it forms part of a general scheme of manoeuvres logical Department, $4,364.80. The Sanitary and has no unusual significance. I am in a position to state, however, that this is not true. Moreover that the action is surely of a expenditure on military, volunteers, and precautionary nature and is due to the wise foresight of H. E. Baron von Mumm and General Petzel acting in concert. There are in all between seventeen and eighteen hundred troops under arms. Part of these have been drawn from the first Asiatic regiment of infantry and the remainder comprises one battery of horse artillery, a detachment of mounted infantry and a troop of lancers. All troops have been served with ball ammunition.

MANILA CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

The filling of the most in the vicinity of Fort Santiago has begun in carnet; a large number of city carts being very busy in hauling material from the glacis extending from the most to the Malecon drive. The greater part of the mont has been filled with deepsea mud from the bottom of the bay, and now the surface is to have a layer, some twoand a half to three feet thick, of refuse wellcovered with earth. The covering to be given: will make a gentle slope from the edge of the old wall towards the roadway. It is planned to plant this with Bermuda grass and thus produce a sunken garden which will form useful play fields, and serve as a proper setting for the old walls. According to the plans formulated by Architect Burnham the tops of the walls are to be made accessible to pedestrians. They will be thoroughly cleaned and turned into delightful walks, their edges being planted with rows of stone pines, the enclosures of the Japanese castle of Tokyo.

HONGKONG'S PART IN THE BOME

The Chung Hua Pao gives a further warning of coming mischief, stating that it has received information that certain secret society men to the number of about 30, held a meeting on the 9th Ninth Moon, when they swore to undertake certain responsibilities the results of which will be seen during this month.

The paper reminds its readers that it gave warning before about the bomb outrage, and this may be only rumour, but may be true. It is willing to take all the blame for publishing sensational news, but dares not withhold what (We may mention that the Chung Hua Pao received the bomb outrage warning from Hongkong. It was, we believe, embedded in a telegram to a Hongkong native paper and the warning must, therefore, have been given a con siderable time before the outrage. Ed.—P.

FAR EASTERN SHIPPING TRAD

The statement that a huge Anglo-Japanese combination is in progress in connection with the steamship trade in the Far East cannot be serified as the result of several inquiries made in Liverpool, while generally the story was denied in toto. No doubt a good deal of topnage by sale or by capture has passed into Japanese hands, and some sales have sine been effected by Liverpool houses, but beyond this nothing is known. The statement was that a large company with a capital of £5,000,000 was being formed.

Holt and Co, managers of the Ocean Steamship Company, said he had no hesitation in stating that the introduction of his name was wholly company were concerned, the story was an entire

Sir Alfred Jones, head of the firm of Elder. Demoster, and Co., whose names were prominently mentioned, stated that he had been approached in a preliminary way in regard to a suggested combination for the extension of the trade between this country and Japan and the East generally. So far as he knew and was concerned, however, nothing whatever of a definite kind had taken place, nor could he indicate what action he himself might or might not take. For years past, Sir Alfred added, he had held a conviction that the Eastern trade possessed great possibilities of development. and it was in consequence of this belief that, as President of the Chamber of Commerce of Liverpool, he had some years ago arranged banquet by that body to the late Chinese Envoy, Sir Chichen Lofengloh, and is on October 10, Mr. Marius' Czardas and Argante; Mr. E.

A SEAFARING PROPHET.

The Cablenews says :- A British steamship captain's prediction that the Pacific is destined to be a Japanese ocean furnishes food for much thought. If the Pacific why not other oceans? It is evident to anyone that the Japanese, or Chinese, can and do run steamers more cheaply than the Caucasian race, and if this is the case will they not naturally get the business as soon There was a dead heat between Argante as they are in shape to compete for it? If a big Jupanese fleet, for example, onters a rate war with the American lines running between San Francisco and Far Eastern ports, how would the American vess-is fare?

On land America finds it necessary, in order to protect herself from the competition of cheapalien labour, to maintain a high protective tariff and to shut out Asiatics, -though there is no law or treaty shutting out Japanese, there is a national sentiment which has the same effect, causing the Tokio government to keep them from migrating in large numbers. Protection is possible in this way to American interests on land, but the acean is open to all. compete on an equal basis, except for such rules as those by which the United States control business of carrying from one to another of her own ports. If it be admitted, as it is on every hand, that the whites cannot live and compete with the Asiatics on land, how shall it be expected that they can do so on sea? The Japanese have learned, and the Chinese will learn, to use just as good steamships as any other nation and to use them just as well. How shall the western races meet their cheap labour competition on the oceans P The competition of other white nations has driven American shipping from the seas to such an extent that, in the opinion of many, a subsidy is needed to restore it. It seems not unreasonable to suppose that the competition of the Asiatics might drive Britain and American both into retirement unless some strong protective measures are adopted. IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.

BEFORE SIRF. T. PIGGOTT (CHIEF JUSTICE).

A QUESTION OF PEIORITY. Chau Tung Shang. In the former case Mr. the case of writs against immoveable property. Calthrop (instructed by Mr. Stenvenson) I now come to the argument that registra- addition to those already noticed, there is this appeared for plaintiffs and in the latter Mr. | tion of the memorial in the Land Office is the further emission, that although the writ to the appeared for plaintiffs of this chapter is erroneous. It is a process for seizing property within the jurisdiction belonging to a defendant out of the jurisdiction, without having recourse to the usual procedure of service out of the jurisdiction. This is made clear by section 453 (1) (b) which provides that one of the conditions procedent to the procedure being made use of is that the plaintiff has taken out a writ of summons against the dofendant; but that the defendant is absent from the Colony or is concealing himself, and the refore, cannot be served. It is quite regular to issue a writ of summons for service within the jurisdiction against a defendant who may be should be at any time be found within the jurisdiction. Under this process it becomes useful in another way: where the cause of action arose within the jurisdiction property belonging to the defendant in the Colony may be seized. This in principle resembles the Scotch procedure of arrestment to found jurisdiction. It is a very exceptional procedure, but under the circumstances of this Colony where much business is conducted with Chinamen, who come and go so easily to Canton, it is a very valuable one. The question of priority must, whenever the defendant has many creditors in the Colony, be exceedingly important, but as the Code is now drafted it is not free from doubt in the case of the procedure being made use of against immoveables. Every point which could throw any light on the meaning of the sections was on both sides.

In action 353, at the suit of Sui Tak Bank, the writ so called of "Foreign attachment was issued on 9th October, the memorial was registered in the Land Office at 10 a.m. on at 10.46 a.m. on 13th.

builiff to execute depended on registration. I think the solution of the question before me is to be arrived at by following out the train of thought suggested by this argument. I use this language as the wording of the Code abroad, although it cannot be served at the is by no means free from doubt, and it is only time. Its object being to serve the defendant after giving the matter prolonged consideration that I have been able to arrive at a conclusion. In the first place, as the writ issued under this chapter of the code is not an ordinary writ of execution, special provisions must be made for bailiff in the case of moveables.

There is no similar provision with regard to the writ against immoveables. But I have they find it necessary, for the judgment on this already constructed the first words of section 448 (1) as not applicable to writ against moveables only, and it therefore follows from this that the works which determine priority "according to the date and time at which they reach the hand of the Bailiff for execution " carry with them an implication that such writs against immove ables are also to be executput before me, the question being ably argued ed by the bailiff." This of itself might not perhaps have decided the question unless the reason of the thing were also in favour of this construction, and of its necessary consequences.

Let us see how judg ments are to be executed Judgment for money is by section 371 to 10th, and it reached the bailiff for execution | be enforced by attachment and sale of the debton's property: the property liable to In action 355, at the suit of Soy Kut Bank, attachment being defined in section 377, and the writ was issued on 11th October, reached includes moveables and immoveables. He then see there is nothing in the rules which requires picked up the cane pole produced and struck the plaintiff to specify the properties which he my mother with it. By this time the first wishes to attach. The rules and forms are defendant had returned, and he separated the Consul-General Schweback in his report to the general, and apply to all property moveable or | deceased and my mother. Deceased then struck the first defendant twice with a pole the jurisdiction. It seems to me, therefore, before the first defendant snatched it from him and struck deceased with it about ten times. Deceased was knocked down and the first defendant then picked up a big stone which perty and both writs to any other property he threw at him. Shortly afterwards the deceased died. I then went to sleep, so I know nothing about the burial operations.

After hearing further evidence, his Worship committed the defendants for trial at the next Criminal Sessions .

LLOYD'S REGISTER SHIP-BUILDING RETURNS. VESSELS UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

From the returns compiled by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, it appears that, excluding warships, there were 414 vessels of 1,325,328 tons gross under construction in the United Kingdom at the close of the quarter ended 30th September, 1905. The particulars of the vessels in question are as follows, simi lar details being given for the corresponding I ried in 1904 for the purpose of comparison :

Description.	30th	Septem- r, 1955. Gress	30th September, 19:4. Gross

Wood & composite	12	1,359	14	1,611
Total	28	-		16,466

The tonnage under construction has shown a steady increuse since December, 1903, and the present figures are within 87.0 0 tons of the total reached in September, 1901, which is the highest on record. As compared with the return. fer the June quarier the figures show an increase of 24,000 tons, while the March quarter's total is now exceeded by 74,000 tons.

Of the vessels under construction in the United Kingdom at the end of September, 375 of 977,491 tons are under the supervision of the Surveyors of Lloyd's Register with a view to classification by this Society. In addition, 42 vessels of 118,966 tons are building abroad with a view to classification. The total building at the present time under the supervision of Lloyd's Register is, thus, 417 vessels of 1,096.457 tons. Details of this total follow -

GERMANY GROWS IN WEALTH.

The Daily Express says :- Some remarkable figures showing the steady growth of wealth and prosperity in Germany are given by Mr. British Foreign Office for the first half of 1905. With the exception of the temporary setback caused by the great miners' strike in the Rhenish-Westphalian coal districts in January this year, there has, he says, been a gradual improvement in German trade and industry since the last months of 1902. Some idea of the general prosperity of the nation may be gained from the fact that within the nine years 1896-1904 the income tax payers in Prussia alone increased from 2,650,000 to 4500,000, or nearly 70 per cent., while the increase of population-during the same period was only about 15 per cent. The aggregate income of all taxpayers amounted in 1904 to £456,134,478, or £20,650,000 more than in 1903. PEOPLE'S MANY MILLIONS.

The savings of the people as represented by the deposits in the banks amounted to £361,450,000, nearly double the total of ten years before.

The stock markets form another guide to the national wealth, and it is interesting to note that a very high level of quotations has been recorded in connection with German industries during the half-year. Not only this, but new enterprises, floated successfully, have totalled £106.244.0 0 for the half-year, against £90,032,500 for the whole of 1904, and £94,404,000 for the whole of 1903.

The foreign trade for the half-year was valued at £300,860,000, of which £168,660,000 was imports and £132,200,000 exports. The figures for the first halves of the four preceding years were as follows, although in making the comparison it must be remembered that owing to the miners' strike less coal was exported and more imported than the average:-Imports. Exports.

£137,600 000 1901 £106,800,000 1902..... 111,150,000 141,950,000 153,859,000 1903..... 121,150,000 161,150,000 126,620,000 It is interesting to note that of the imports this year 48.8 per cent. consisted of raw. materials for industrial purposes.

TEXTILE AND IRON TRADES. In the textile industry, in which the Germans are becoming formidable rivals to Lancashire and Yorkshire, it may be noted that the half-In her exports of iron and ironware Germany continues to increase her trade, while for pig iron, rails, rolled and drawn wire, fine entlery, cement, and needles she is securing an important position in the world's markets. There is a notable increase shown in the shipments abroad of machinery, including locomotives, boilers, machine tools, transmission machines, pumps, and other kinds. The miners' strike, which is practically the only regrettable feature of the balf-year's industry, is estimated to have cost £2,000,000, of which half was loss in wages. British Coalewners benefited largely by the strike, imports of coal from this country rising to 948,497 tons in February, whereas the average for the month is between 200,000 and 300,000

ANGLO-GERMAN RELATIONS.

Speaking at the conference of the Liberal People's Party, held last week at Wiesbaden, Dr. Müller-Meiningen alluded to the relations between England and Germany, which, he said, offered a typical example of what could be effected by a fanatical and abort-sighted Press. Since the Kruger telegram a feeling of animosity against Germany had existed in England, which was artificially kept alive by a certain section of the Press. The great mass of the people, however, both in England and Germany, had no interest in this silly agitation. There was no natural antagonism between Germans and any other civilised people. They wished to live in peace and friendship with every body. They doubly regretted the attempts which were made by Chauvinistic newspapers to stir up strife between two nations which were related by ties of blood and common culture, and should stand together at the head of the civilised world. Dr. Müller-Meiningen, recalled the words of Admiral Sir Arthur Wilson, who said at Swinemunde that the more Englishmen all Sizes, Nos. 10 to SSSG. AIR GUNS and and Germans learned to know each other the AMMUNITION in Variety. more they learned to love each other. Germans had completely fulse ideas concerning educated Hongkong, 28th November, 1902. 2349 Englishmen, just as, on the other hand, Englishmen showed great ignorance of German thought and feeling. The trend of German policy was Eastwards; their culture, their sympathies for peoples and institutions drew them towards the West. In conclusion. the speaker asked the conference to adopt the resolution he had brought forward. calling upon the members of the party to oppose with all their power the perilous agitations of Chauvinism, and to support everyeffort made to bring about friendly feeling between nations in the interests of peace and the progress of humanity. The resolution was adopted unanimously, after a proposal by Dr. Landesberger to add the words" particularly entrance to the Hongkong Hetel).

Scalp One Mass of Sores, Hair and Eye-Brows Fell Out - Agony for Eight Long Years - Doctors Were Unable to Cure Her.

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA

"I had suffered terrible agony and pain for eight long years from a terrible eczema on the scalp and face. The best doctors were unable to help me, and I had spent a lot of money for many remedies without receiving any benefit. My scalp was covered with scabs, my face was like a piece of raw beef, my eyebrows and lashes were falling out, and sometimes I felt as if I was burning up from the terrible itching and pain. then began treating myself at home, and now my head and face are clear and I am entirely well. I first bathed my face with Cuticura Soap, then applied Cuticura Ointment to the afflicted parts, and took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. I was greatly relieved after the first application, and continued use of Cuticura soon made a complete cure. - Miss Mary F. Fay, Westboro, Mass."

for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills any time. and you are welcome to publish this letter-I am, gentlemen, gratefully yours, HY. BOXEL." Some months after receiving this letter, we sent our representative to see Mrs. Boxer. house quite nicely, as well as help with the housework. I still use Donn's Pills occasionally, for I find they keep me in such good health." "Yes," Mr. Boxer joined in, "and I wouldn't like to be without a box of Doan's Pills in the house, for they have saved my wife's life. Since I wrote you last, she has been down to Sheerness again, but, thank goodness, not to be wheeled about in a bathchair, she can walk as well as anyone, and our relations in Sheerness are astonished at her cure. Before she used Donn's Pills, no one thought she would live, and for nine months she was unable to leave her bed. A specialist in kidney troubles, who had her case in hand, said to me: 'I don't like to tell you, but there's not the slightest hope of your wife pulling through: her disease is one that nothing can cure. A local doctor, too. said: 'It's no use my coming to see your wife any more; I can only give her the same medicine over again, and I can never do her any good : she is past a cure.'

"Either of us will be only too glad to speak

"However, I wouldn't give up hope, and kept trying different medicines until I heard of Dosn's Pills. Before my wife had finished the third box she seemed going right ahead, improving quickly, and she has been well, as you see her to-day, for a long time. Worlds cannot tell you how grateful we are for the happiness Doan's Backache Kidney Pills have brought to our home.'

Donn's Backache Kidney Pills are 2/9 a box, or 13/9 for 6 boxes. To be had of all chemiste and medicine-dealers, or direct from the proprietors, the Foster-McClellan Co., 8, Wells Street, Oxford Street, London, England, post free on receipt of price.

THE POPULATION OF JAPAN. COMPARISON WITH OTHER COUNTRIES.

Mr. Takano Iwasaburo (Hogakuhakushi). recently contributed to the Kokkagaku-kar Zasski an article on the population question which, in view of the discussion regarding the alleged over-population of Japan, will be read with much interest. We have often heard it said, remarks Mr

Takano, that Japan's pupulation is multiplying with remarkable rapidity. While this is no doubt true, it requires careful investigation whether the population is increasing at a rate which finds no parallel in other countries. Prior to the Restoration no reliable statistics are obtainable, but since the beginning of the Meiji era returns show that Japan's population has been steadily on the increase. In 1872 the population was 33 millions, which in 1882 had increased to 37 millions. Ten years, later, in 1892, the latter figure had been augmented to 40 millions, and by 1891 the figure had been further increased to 45 millions. It will thus be seen that during the thirty years ended 1901 Japan's population has increased by twelve millions, or 13.7 per cent. The average yearly increase is roughly 400,000, or one for every 100 of the population. The density of population-also increased from 1,335 per square ri in 1872 to 1,832 in 1901. While, however, there is doubt, that the Evidently, though the increase of population is Japanese are a progressive people and that the increasing, the rate is not specially remarkable. population is increasing at a remarkable rate. Mr. Tokano thinks it would be a mistake to regard this a phenomenon peculiar to Japan. | age of marriages, and although the birth-rate The increase of population is a phenomenon. generally observable in all civilised countries in modern times, though there are exceptions such as Ireland, and he thinks it will be interesting to compare the Japanese rate of lower than in most European countries. Of increase with that of other countries. During the ten years ended 1900 Japan's population increased by 4,360,000, the yearly average ratio being 10.2 per 1,000. In making a comparison with | ence. But evidently, so far as Japan is conother countries, exceptional instances such as loern d, the danger from a too rapid increase of stationary (its rate of increase in only 1.3) and the United States where the increase, 19.7, is very great, are excluded. The Japanese ratio of increase may be compared with the 103 of Scotland, 10.9 of Denmark, and 10.5 of Canada, England, Germany, and European Russia all surpass Japan in the rate of increase; the increase in Switzerland (11.9), Holland (12.3), and Norway (13.9) are higher than Japan; while those of Belgium (9.8), Hungary (9.8), and Austria (8.9) are lower than Japan.

The average yearly increase of the population in England during the ten years ended 1900 was 3.520,000, the ratio being 11.5 per 1,0.0; that of European Russia 12,490,000, the ratio 11.9; and that of Germany 6,91,000, the ratio being 13.2. As may be seen from the above comparisons, though the increase of Japan's population can hardly be said to be slow, it must be remembered that there are other countries where the rate of increase is much more rapid. There is little doubt, however, that the rate of increase in Japan is becoming larger every year, as will be seen from the figures below:per 1,000 1899... 1900...

Even with these figures as a basis, however, it can scarcely be said that Japan's population is increasing at a rate unprecedented in other countries.

Next it may be interesting to go into details of the increase of Japanese population and institute a comparison with other countries.

The increase of population in Japan during cent, was from the excess of births over deaths, the remaining 7.8 per cent. being the difference between these who were entered on the census register and those who were excluded therefrom through various causes. Before instituting a comparison of the number of births and deaths Mr. Henry Boxer, living at 38, Westlake with other countries, it will be necessary to

It should be borne in mind that in the Japan wife, and she seemed better after the second or | birth and death statistics. The same system

As already remarked, the ratio of marriages in Japan is larger than that of most other countries, and therefore people are naturally led to expect a proportionately larger birth-rate. This, however, is not the case. The average yearly number of births during the years under review was 1,272,000, or 29.8 per 1,000 of the population, which, as compared with the 40 of Hungary, and 47.1 of European Russia, is small, though the ratio of marriages in these countries is nearly the same. Again, compared with 36.1 sent our representative to see Mrs. Boxer. of Germany, 37.1 of Austria, 30.0 of England, "I am still in splendid health to-day," the and 30.7 of Scotland, Japan's birth rate is also grateful woman said, "and can get about the inferior despite the fact that the ratio of marriages in these European countries is actually below that of Japan. Although Japan's birth rate is not so low as that of France, where it is 22.1 against the marriage ratio of 7.5, it cannot be said to be large. The question why Japan's brith rate is low in propertion to marriages forms an interesting question for statisticians.

Japan's average death-rate during the ten years ending 1900 was 20.9 per 1,000 and that of the preceding ten years 20.0. The figure is far below the death-rate of Austria (26.6), European Russia (33.5), Hungary (29.7), and Germany (22.2). While it is not surprising. that the rate should be larger in these countries, where the birth-rate is also larger than in Japan, what is surprising is that in England, Scotland, Denmark, and Norway, where the birth-rate is a little larger than Japan, the death-rate is actually lower, as will be seen from the figures below. In this respect there is evidently room for improvement per 1,000 per 1,000 Mr. Takano then proceeds to review the difference between the number of births and deaths. The excess of births over deaths in Japan during the ten years ended 1900 was 380,000 a year on an average, or 8.9 per 1,000 of the population. Switzerland (9.3) and Belgium (9.8) come near to Japan's rate, while England, Germany, Austria, and Russia far exceed that of Japan, as will be shown. Even in Scotland and Denmark, where the rate of increase of population is nearly the same as Japan, the excess of births over deaths is above that of this country. The comparative smallness of the actual increase of population compared with the excess of hirths in these countries is because they lose a large number of the population through emigration abroad. In the light of the following statistics the fallacy of the supposition that Japan's population is increasing at a rate almost unprecedented in other countries will become apparent :--

Excess of Increase of bobajerion per 1,000 per 1.000 1891 to 1900. France Spain Japan Switzerland Bolgium Scotland Deomark Germany Holland ... Norway

Coming to an analysis of the increase, the birthrate is lower compared with the larger percentis comparatively low it can scarcely be said to show a very good state of things. In short, the increase of the population resulting from the difference between births and deaths is cours the mere increase of population cannot be welcomed, for quality, not quantity, is more likely to be victorious in the struggle for exist. France, where the population remains almost population is not to be apprehended.—Japan trip. Even the shortest of journeys is a source of dread to some, whilst it is a commen thing that day after day of a long voyage finds the unhappy victim literally "cabined, cribbed and confined" in a close state-room, away from all the fun and frolic of the windswept decks. Too many are seasick, when as a matter of fact none need be. One of the interesting virtues of Hall's Coca Wine is that it will positively prevent this disgustingly unpleasant ailment. If the digestion is corrected before the trip, and the early hours of the voyage are spent in a reclining position, the use of Hall's Coca Wine, will stimulate the muscles of the stomach so that sea-sickness will be out of the question.
